

ROUNABOUT TOWN By G. A. MARTIN.

Do you know what a floater is? J. E. Quaid is going to be one and R. E. Thompson is one now. In Texas a floater is a man who represents more than one county in the legislature.

Just how the term originated is not quite certain, but ever since people can remember, there have been legislative representatives in the legislature of Texas. The dictionary does not give the word as a word.

M. E. Thompson, speaker of the Texas legislature, was asked about the term and said: "I am not positive how it originated, but in the early days, more particularly than now, several counties often constituted a legislative district. It was the custom to elect a man from one county one year and another county next—the job floated around—and from this the term floater originated. I am sure, and thus it became known as a floater district."

The district to which J. E. Quaid has just been nominated consists of El Paso and the adjoining county, hence the representative is known as a floater and his district as a floater district. Thompson represents the district at present.

The late county Democratic convention was as liberal with its resolutions of endorsement as the Democratic county convention.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Multifried coconut oil shampoo for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dirt, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

Bean Bag Idea Brought Prosperity To Annie

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE

IT WAS six years ago that Annie May Bryan of the midwest found in the clutter of cloth and beads and buckles that accumulated in every household, a piece of green felt of a very lustrous shade. She did not want it; she could not through some inherent trait of thrift, waste it.

Perhaps it was not an instinct of economy that caused her to lay it to one side; perhaps it was an inspiration that came many times in many people, and which so many refuse to entertain.

Her inspiration was that it would make a bean bag; why not a green turtle bean bag? She cut out the pattern carefully, sewed it up, filled it with beans and closed the gap through which she had poured them, and in the first of the animal bean bags of the menagerie that extended ultimately from coast to coast was born.

Orders came for more. She found that while children preferred animal bean bags that bore no resemblance in color to their living prototypes, they demanded that they be faithful in outline. She cut carefully, she employed all the help she could find to sew; she bought beans till the grocer wondered if she were operating an army boarding house, and within a short time pale blue cats, pink pups, yellow monkeys, green horses and purple cows, with their little limbs composed of beans, were being thrown into the air by thousands of little hands.

This was her idea of making money. What's yours? Copyright, 1928, Thompson Feature Service.

WHO PAYS FOR PNEUMATIC TRUCK TIRE EXPERIMENTS

WHEN an automobile owner's tire goes back on him he more or less cheerfully charges it off as a personal loss and tries to do better next time.

It is different with the motor truck owner.

Every tire must do exactly what is expected of it or be charged against his business.

Experimenting with tires is not the job of the truck owner.

The United States Rubber Company spent two years in developing the idea of putting a heavy truck on air before it brought out the first pneumatic truck tires. Even then it was not satisfied.

Even at that time it saw that you could not take an ordinary passenger car tire, enlarge it and make it do what truck owners expect of their tires.

It went back again to first principles—to the foundation—to the bead of the tire.

The car owner who seeks United States standards in tubes is well paid in more mileage for his tires. U. S. Red Tubes. U. S. Grey Tubes.

It created a new type of bead construction, positively anchoring the cords. It put in the right number of breaker strips, stronger side walls, a heavier tread.

The result was a pneumatic truck tire—not an enlarged passenger car tire. Created to fill a need—not padded and bolstered up to fill a market already created.

There are still some sizes of U. S. Nobby Cord Tires you cannot buy. The market is there, waiting for them.

But they will not be released until this company is satisfied that they will do what truck owners expect of them.

The United States Rubber Company has never asked truck owners to pay for its tire experiments.
